

County Training Program Saves $13.7 Million in Welfare Funds

Los Angeles County's Community Work and Training Program resulted in a net savings to taxpayers of $13,745,244 between December, 1965, and November, 1966, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn said today.

Hahn was responsible for initiating and expanding the program after launching a pilot project early in 1965 and using welfare recipients to clean the walls and halls of County General Hospital.

A total of 11,400 adult recipients and 35,619 children were taken off the welfare rolls as a direct result of the program, which trains recipients in various types of work and helps them secure permanent employment.

THE CHILDREN were removed because their parents were able to secure work.

In addition, 3,099 adult recipients were removed from the welfare rolls because they refused to participate in community work and training or refused jobs after completing their training.

Hahn pointed out that the savings to the taxpayers were noted at three levels: federal — $5,185,179; state — $5,574,638; and county — $2,985,427.

LATE LAST YEAR, the federal government curtailed anti-poverty funds for incidental expenses such as car fare for persons being trained in the successful county program.

Hahn called this action "shortsighted and foolish." At that time, a total of 7,890 were receiving training, but because of the cutback only 2,509 are currently taking part.

Business Courses Planned

Thirty-four business courses will be offered in the evening schedule at Harbor College for the fall semester, according to Robert G. Wrenn, chairman of the business division.

Classes will begin Monday, Sept. 11, Wrenn said. Deadline for registration is Wednesday, Aug. 30.

Classes in accounting, secretarial skills, business law, investments, personal finance, and data processing are included in the evening offerings, Wrenn said.

In addition, classes in management and supervision, marketing, real estate, type-writing, shorthand, and office machines are planned.

Enrollment information may be secured by visiting or writing the college admissions office, 1111 Figueroa Place, Wilmington.

2.5-Cent Tax Hike Approved

A record budget of $663.5 million has been adopted by the Los Angeles City Board of Education for the 1967-68 year.

The budget will increase the tax rate 2.5 cents from the present rate of $4.3335 for each $100 of assessed valuation.

However, Superintendent Jack Crowther warned that the assessment of $4.3586 for each $100 of assessed valuation is not enough to take care of the expanding school system's needs. Under this budget, Crowther said approximately $12.1 million in programs and services will have to be cut.

Torrance Resident Promoted

Franklin (Bud) Furrington Jr., of 4921 Vanderhill Road, has been named assistant manager of Western Airlines' Southwest Regional Reservations Center.

Furrington, who has been employed by the airline for 18 years, formerly was supervisor of Western's ground services training school.

New Patient

Elizabeth Taylor, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Len Taylor of 4006 W. 175th Place, has been admitted to Orthopaedic Hospital in Los Angeles.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that farm prices today are lower than they were 20 years ago, but the cost of what the farmer has to pay has gone up 35 per cent.

Rules Listed for Use Of Power Lawn Mowers

Power mowers, a frequent cause of home accidents, need to be a hazard if a few safety rules are observed, according to Ruth Morgan, chairman of safety services of the Southern District of the Los Angeles Chapter Red Cross.

Learn mower controls thoroughly. Fill gas tank before starting mower. Clear area of stones and other objects which can ricochet and become deadly missiles and send children and pets well away. Never use an electric mower when grass is wet. Keep feet clear of the machine all the time it is in operation. Stay away from grass discharge side of mower. Push—do not pull—mower. Stop engine whenever you leave mower, even if only for a moment. Do not attempt to unclog mower while it is running. Mow steep slopes from side to side, not up and down. Do not allow children to operate mower. Use extreme caution while riding mowers on steep inclines. Stop engine and disconnect spark wire before working on mower. Mow only during daylight or in good artificial light.
